Sindh as rich in development of oil and gas. As a non-profit organization It was essential for to assess the rights of people affected by the extraction companies. Sindh is one of the rich provinces in this context, where huge resources are available. There are 139 oil resources in country, and 112 (80%) only in Sind. Similarly Sindh is also ahead in gas producing province, and 121 resources out of 156 located in Sind, which is 77.7%.

It is much interesting that the highest oil and gas producing province is least developed. In different parts of Sindh especially people of rural areas are living below the poverty line, and mostly oil and gas producing districts are suffering with the poverty problem. The publication includes different analysis on rights of people and concerned community concepts. All the related issues and remedies are carefully covered in the publication.
